It is distant about two miles from the wharf on the Parramatta river.

As the water in Shrimpton's Creek has never been known to fail in the driest season, and as the farm is farther well watered by a chain of ponds passing through it, it possesses the advantage of a good supply of water.

Five acres of the farm have been fenced off, and parts partially cleared.

PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.
Lease for three years and Good-will of the Victoria Inn, with Stabling and good Well of Water, at Camperdown, Parramatta Road.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT have received instructions to dispose of the above, by public auction, at their Rooms, 451, George-street, on MONDAY, 10th January, at 11 o'clock precisely.

The Victoria Inn is doing a first-rate business, being provided with stabling, 45 feet long, large yard, and well of water, warranted not to fail. The house contains eight large rooms, with kitchen; and the purchaser may take the stock-in-trade and a portion of the furniture at a valuation.

The premises are subject to a rental of 25s. a week, and the business done can be shown to amount to about £25 per week, whilst the accommodations are so complete that it can be increased to any extent.

Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit; the residue on the transfer of the lease being completed. 431

VALUABLE CITY PROPERTY.

QUIT RENT REDEEMED.
A SUBSTANTIAL BRICK BUILT COTTAGE,
Containing 4 rooms, with enclosed yard, and well of water, in the occupation of Mr. Reeves, tailor, at the low rental of 10s. per week, erected upon

All that piece or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the city of Sydney, bounded on the north by a new street, called Victoria-place, leading from Sussex-street to George-street, 20 feet; on the east by No. 22 allotment, 35 feet; on the south by Mr. Redmond's land, 20 feet; and on the west by Mr. Thomas Inglis's gateway, 36 feet.

In the present scarcity of dwelling-houses to meet the pressing demand, the advantage of possessing property like the above in the very centre and business part of the city is too apparent to require notice from the auctioneers; they will merely observe that the cottage is let at about one half its value, compared with adjacent property, and is a first-rate investment for parties having money at command.

Terms liberal.

25 per cent. cash deposit on the fall of the hammer, the residue by approved bill at three months date from day of sale, and bearing 6 per cent. interest; or, if preferred £120 may remain secured on the property for a term. 432

Monday, 10th January, 1853
IMPORTANT SALE OF 32 VILLA LOTS,
Situate in the village of Petersham, fronting the Sydney Road, facing Mr. T. Weedon's Cherry Gardens Inn, the Canterbury Road, and the Petersham estate.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT, have been favoured with instructions to dispose of this highly desirable property, by public auction, at their Rooms, 451, George-street, on MONDAY, 10th January, 1853, at 12 o'clock precisely, as per plan now on view.

☞ The present enormous rate of rents in Sydney, coupled with the impossibility of obtaining Dwelling Houses to meet the demand at any price, renders this opportunity of purchasing a Valuable Freehold on the chief Road of the Colony on easy terms particularly deserving of notice. The wonderful increase in traffic on the Parramatta Road, caused by the Gold Discoveries, makes the locality valuable beyond all former experience, and most particularly the Roadside Allotments for business purposes. The Railway Line, which they are at a short distance from, will, when in operation, bring them within a few minutes' journey of the metropolis itself.

THE 32 ALLOTMENTS
Consist of
Six on the Parramatta Road, having frontages of from 67 to 68 feet, by depths of from 150 to 200 feet.
Twenty Allotments in George-street, having frontages of from 96 to 130 feet, by depths of 140 to 190 feet.
Three Allotments in Church-street North, and Three Allotments in Church-street South, opposite the Church Reserve, having from 63 to 64 feet frontage, by depths of 160 to 170 feet.

The allotments adjoin the estates of W. Macdonald, Esq., Dr. Ramsay, Mr. Weedon, and the estate adjoining James Norton's, Esq., just opposite the Petersham Estate.

Terms—25 per Cent. cash deposit, the residue by approved Bills at 3 and 6 months, dated from day of sale, and bearing 6 per cent. interest.

For particulars of Title, apply to Messrs. Dunsmure and Stafford, Solicitors, 325, Castlereagh-street. 6487

For London.—By the Cuthberts, this day at noon; and by the Kate, to-morrow evening, at 6.

For Hobart Town.—By the Emma, this evening, at 4.

The Rose, steamer, reports the Salem, barque, as having left Newcastle for San Francisco 5th instant.

The Beejapore left the Land's End on the 27th September, making her passage in 99 days. She has had very heavy weather during the last 14 days, off the coast. She has not spoken any vessel connected with the colonies.

The Emma has had an excellent run from Port Phillip, having left the Heads on Sunday evening and anchored in the Cove before six o'clock yesterday morning. She has seen no vessels on the passage. The St. George was lying aground upright when the Emma passed, and she appeared to have most of her passengers on board.

The Beejapore has made the passage from Liverpool in 85 days—the shortest run on record—bringing 911 immigrants. Unfortunately 56 deaths have occurred from measles and fever during the voyage, and one death took place only three days ago: there are between 30 and 40 cases of sickness now on board. The vessel has been placed in quarantine.

In the manifest per Cleopatra, 13 cases consigned to Order, should have been, Rossiter and Lazarus.

The cargo per John Williams, consisting of arrowroot and cocoanut oil, is consigned to G. A. Lloyd and Co.

The Equestrian, from Hobart Town, is originally from Plymouth, with convicts, and has brought on to this port a detachment of the 11th regiment, which formed the guard on the passage out. They were received on landing by Colonel Bloomfield, the Adjutant, and the band of the regiment, and escorted to the barracks in the usual manner. The Waterlily was to sail from Hobart Town on the 3rd instant.

The ship Pactolus was sold to-day by Mr. Mort to E. M. Sayers, Esq., for £1750 cash.

The brigantine Twins has changed hands, having been purchased for £1000, by W. and J. Donaldson, Newcastle. To be employed in the coal trade.

The Rattler, from Plymouth, arrived late last evening, bringing 254 bounty immigrants, viz., 57 married couples, 55 single women, and 8 single men, the rest children of various ages. 7 deaths and 7 births occurred during the voyage; of the former, three were caused by diarrhœa, one consumption, 1 disease of the heart, and one of the brain; there was also one sudden death. The immigrants are of a mixed and rather superior class. The ship is remarkably cleanly. A general appearance of comfort was manifested throughout. The Rattler, on the 3rd December, spoke the Countess of Elgin, in lat. 48·18 S., and long. 31·14·30 E., out 70 days; and the Time, barque, on the 6th December, in lat. 41·23 S., long. 38·9 E., both bound from Plymouth for Port Phillip. There are about 350 tons of general merchandise on board the Rattler.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

To Thomas Hobson, Esq., Commander; S. Kennedy, Esq., Surgeon-Superintendent; and the Rev. W. K. Colyer, Chaplain of the ship Wilson Kennedy.

Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned heads of families and others, emigrants on board the Wilson Kennedy, passengers from England to Sydney, having arrived safely at our destination, feel anxious that the present opportunity should not pass without an expression of thankfulness and congratulation to each of you upon the successful termination of your labours.

In the position in which we stand we are precluded from offering, as a testimony of remembrance, anything beyond the response of the heart to the best wishes which this memorial can convey. But such as it is, we ask you to accept it in the same spirit in which it is presented. Fully aware of the dangers and difficulties which are of necessity attendant upon a voyage of such duration, and also of the great care and attention requisite to the performance of the several duties devolving upon each, we [illegible] by this memorial express our [illegible] thanks to each of you for all the kind attention which we have [illegible] received at all times severally from you. To Captain Hobson we beg to express our deep sense of that fortitude and prudence which has been always manifested for the welfare of all entrusted to his care, and also to acknowledge with pleasure that urbanity of manner which has made him accessible at all times to every passenger. We beg also of Captain Hobson to convey our acknowledgments of esteem to all the officers under his command. To Dr. Kennedy we feel pleasure in acknowledging the efficacy of his skill in the hour of need, and also the uncompromising and effective manner in which his directions as Surgeon-Superintendent were carried out. And also, to Mr. Colyer we beg to tender our satisfactory assurance that he has laboured faithfully in the performance of his sacred and secular duties, incumbent upon him as Chaplain and General Instructor. We also trust that each of you who will again pursue your course onward to your native land may continue to be sustained by that unerring Providence which is the sure protector of all.

[Signed by 153 passengers.]

December 23rd, 1852.

To the immigrants per ship Wilson Kennedy.

We hereby tender our united thanks to you, one and all, for this manifestation of your gratitude, in presenting us with such a memorial, stating your entire satisfaction of our endeavours towards the furtherance of your comfort during the voyage. We further add, that during the voyage your behaviour, attention, and obedience to the regulations of the Commissioners, evinced on your part a good criterion to your future life; and we have no hesitation in saying, that in whatever sphere of duty you may be severally placed, it is our unanimous conviction that it will be your utmost endeavour faithfully to perform those duties. We heartily wish you success in the new world; and also, when time shall be no more, every one may be found worthy of that high vocation to which we are all called.

TRANSPORTATION STILL!

In the letter from our correspondent at Launceston, Van Diemen's Land, which appeared in our Supplement of Wednesday, we have an announcement which we may well style calamitous and ominous, and upon the possible consequences of which we cannot reflect without apprehension and dismay. "It would appear," he says, "that no hopes are to be entertained of a change of policy being adopted towards the Australian colonies by the Derby Administration, and that Sir John Pakington is as fully determined to uphold the detestable transportation system as his predecessor in the Colonial Office. Two prison ships have arrived at Hobart Town within a week. On the 10th instant (December) the ship Lady Montague came into port with 280 male convicts; and on the 16th, 289 more were landed from the Equestrian."

The reason why we view the facts here announced with more than ordinary solicitude is, that about the time when these ships were despatched from England her Majesty's Government must have been put in full possession of the sentiments authoratively declared, on the subject of transportation, by the four Australian colonies of New South Wales, Van Diemen's Land, South Australia, and Victoria. Sir John Pakington had, indeed, been personally informed by a deputation of our friends in London, that the three continental colonies were not less unanimous than their insular sister, in denouncing the system as hateful to their feelings, and incompatible with their moral, political, and even material interests. But, by the period at which the above named ships were ordered to be freighted with convicts, the right honorable baronet must have received official advices of the decisions arrived at, and solemnly recorded, by the four Legislative Assemblies. It is probable that he had also been made aware of the proceedings at the great meeting of the League, held in Sydney on the 6th of April, and at similar meetings in the other colonies.

And yet, in spite of these multiplied demonstrations, Ministers continue to send out convicts! In the teeth of an opposition more determined and consentaneous than British dependencies had ever shown before, since the struggle which ended in the transformation of the united colonies of America into the United States of an independent nation, they persist in their course as coolly and composedly as though the sound of opposition had never reached their ears. How is such conduct to be accounted for? At once harsh, unjust, cruel, and oppressive—utterly at variance with the spirit of British statesmen of the present day, and with the kindliness and good-will professed towards the colonies by all classes of the British people—how, we repeat, is such conduct to be accounted for? That neither Lord Derby, nor Sir John Pakington, nor any other member of the Cabinet, deliberately intends to do unto his fellow-subjects in Australia as he would not that those fellow-subjects should do unto him, ought in common charity to be hoped. To believe to the contrary, would be to regard them as unprincipled, immoral, unchristian men, reckless of all obligations, human and divine. We can account for it on no other supposition than this—that Ministers have been persuaded into the belief that our opposition is either insincere on the part of those who have joined in it, or inexpressive of the opinions really entertained by the great bulk of our four communities. But it is inconceivable that such a persuasion could be effected by any authority short of that of one or more of our Colonial Governors. We have no doubt that such authority has not been wanting. We have no doubt that from one or more of our four Government Houses the Colonial Minister has received despatch after despatch, earnestly inculcating the doctrine that the anti-convict movement is little better than an organised imposture—that its promoters have far other and far different objects in view,—and that the majority of the clear-headed and sound-hearted colonists are no parties to it, and have no sympathies with it. And the result shows that the labour has not been thrown away. The doctrine was too agreeable to the ministerial conscience to be lightly esteemed, and, coming from an authority so decisive, has been received as an orthodox article of the Australasian creed.

And from which of Their Excellencies has this false teaching gone forth? With the exception of one unfortunate expression in one unfortunate despatch, we have no reason to suspect that it has gone from the head of our own Government. That being the only instance in which Sir Charles Fitz Roy, during an administration of more than six years, is known to have acted unfairly towards the people of his charge, we may fairly acquit him of having taken any other step in the same direction. Nor has any thing ever transpired, within our knowledge, to attach suspicion either to Lieutenant-Governor La Trobe or to Lieutenant-Governor Young. But there remains yet another ruler. Of his proceedings, in the subtle art of misadvising and misleading the Queen's Government on this momentous subject, there can be no doubt. They are before the world on the Queen's own authority. Her Majesty has caused to be laid on the table of both Houses of Parliament indisputable evidence that, of the four personages acting in her royal name within her Australian dominions, there is at least one who has spared no pains in striving to counteract and nullify the whole anti-transportation movement. One who has set himself up in direct antagonism to all that has been solemnly iterated and reiterated throughout the four colonies, not only by means of petitions from Public Meetings held successively through a long series of years, not only by means of the great organization of the Australasian League, but by means also of the all but unanimous declarations of their respective Legislative Assemblies. One who has stood forth, in melancholy isolation from the otherwise universal conviction of these four powerful communities, as the advocate for the continuance of transportation to a region of gold. We need not say that this dauntless champion in the lists of convictism, is His Excellency Sir William Denison. To him, we firmly believe, these colonies are indebted for whatever blessings convictism may be now bringing in its train. Or, if in its train no blessings come, but only curses of varied hue and accumulating weight—curses which endanger the loyalty of the most important of all the colonies ruled by the British sceptre, and which may perchance descend to our children as the historical solution of the curses which brought that once happy and honourable rule to a premature termination—if these curses come, we shudder to think how much of the responsibility for their infliction will ever stand connected, in the written annals and floating traditions of our future times, with the name of William Denison.

The Beejapore, from Liverpool, eighty-five days out, was reported from the Signal Station yesterday evening, and we consequently began to make preparations for giving our readers a batch of late English news this morning. We soon, however, learned that the vessel had sickness on board, and our reporter, who had gone several miles outside the heads to her, was not allowed to approach sufficiently near to obtain newspapers or information. She has upwards of a thousand people on board. We hope to receive some papers from her in the course of the day.

THE EARTHQUAKES AT MANILA.

We translate from the Boletin Oficial de Filipinas of the 15th of October, the following interesting particulars of the recent earthquakes at Manila:—

"Historical account of the earthquakes which took place in these Islands from the 16th of September to the 12th instant (October), with statistical notices of those which have occurred since the year 1645.

As our object in publishing this account is to relate all the disastrous effects produced by the earthquakes from which we suffered in the month of September, we shall be compelled to repeat some of the statements which have already appeared in a former issue. Nevertheless, we believe our readers will not be displeased to see placed together in one article all the facts connected with that calamitous event which may be interesting to them.

The 16th of September was a memorable day—a day of grief for the Isle of Luzon, and more especially for the capital. An earthquake of extraordinary violence occurred, which has left traces too cruel to be properly described. At about half-past 6 in the evening of that day, the sky being overhung with clouds, in the midst of a suffocating calm, accompanied by a drizzling rain, quite unusual at this season, a rapid succession of oscillations from north to south made themselves felt, alternated by a violent trembling movement of the earth, which caused the pendulum to vibrate to the extraordinary extent of 31 degrees. The earthquake was accompanied by a loud subterraneous grumbling, which, heightened by the crash of buildings falling, tiles, leadings, and cornices tumbling to the ground, and the cries of distress uttered by the inhabitants, was calculated to inspire terror in every heart. It would be impossible to describe our feelings at the time. The shock lasted only about 3 minutes, but those minutes seemed to us hours. The terrified inhabitants were rushing from their dwellings into the streets, and, in the darkness of the evening, the scene was indescribably horrible. The worst feature was the feeling of uncertainty as to the probable duration of the phenomenon. Most fortunately, Providence mitigated its wrath, and soon afterwards tranquillity began to be restored with the calm that supervened. But it was only a temporary reprieve; at 10 minutes after eight, another shock took place, but with diminished violence, which was repeated, however, again and again, at 9, 10-15, 11, and at 4 o'clock in the morning, the effect of which was to keep the inhabitants in a constant state of suspense and alarm. In the morning a great number of the inhabitants of the town and suburbs took refuge in the fields and cottages. The Captain General and other authorities remained at their respective residences, which were not by any means exempt from the impending ruin; but this example of coolness and presence of mind had little effect in mitigating the general terror which prevailed.

On the 19th the shocks were renewed, and frequently recurred at intervals between that day and the 30th. From that time the capital may be said to have recovered to its usual aspect; but on the 10th, 11th, and 12th instant slight shocks were again experienced.

It is only now that we are enabled to contemplate in all its bearings the catastrophe which has befallen us. Scarcely a single building has escaped damage, and the loss is quite incalculable. Fortunately the casualities were limited to three persons killed and one wounded.

We have said that the first shock lasted about three minutes. The index of the pendulum (query, needle?) showed the direction of the oscillations to be from N. to S., with an inclination of from 11 to 12 degrees, to which succeeded several vibratory motions, which at first arrested the pendulum, and then caused it to describe several circles. These movements were followed by great oscillations from E.N.E. to W.S.W., causing the pendulum to vibrate to the extent of 43°. The other shocks were of much less violence, the effect on the pendulum being limited to 4½°.

We were enabled to make the following observations:

The thermometer was at 23° (Reaumur?) and the barometer 29·82.

The heat was suffocating. The sea was heavy, ... highly phosphorescent, and the wind puffy and variable. During the day it had blown from the S.W., but had gradually veered round to N.

The water in the reservoirs had risen considerably.

The Spanish brigantine Romano, coming from China, felt the first shock of the earthquake in latitude 17·30 N., and longitude 118·50 E. from Greenwich.

The French frigate Ville de Tonniens, which was off Antigua at the time, experienced three days of calm, with suffocating heat."

The Boletin then gives at great length a detailed account of damage done to all the public buildings in the city, from which we take the following:—

MILITARY BUILDINGS.

Palace of the Governor. This building was greatly injured, more particularly on the northern façade. The Secretaria, and the Treasury, were so far injured that another shock of equal violence with the first must have destroyed them altogether. Steps have been taken, however, to repair immediately those portions which are urgently required for the service; and the whole of the buildings will be restored as soon as it is possible.—The quarters of the military. These suffered more or less, particularly those of the Compania. The soldiers there were compelled to leave the upper floors, and it was only by a providential interposition that many persons were not killed, the lead roofing of the adjoining church having been thrown down close by. The quarters of the 1st regiment artillery, and 2nd regiment, suffered very little.

The Music, a vast and beautiful building, was greatly injured; all the columns and walls bear traces of the shocks. Some of the columns have sunk considerably, and some of the more solid parts of the edifice have been strained out of their proper position. The quarters of the 5th regiment suffered slightly, with the exception of the officers' apartments, which are greatly injured. Already a number of workmen are employed on the necessary repairs.

The fort of Santiago has been severely shaken, notwithstanding its well known strength and solidity. Several of the batteries and bulwarks have also received damage, but not to any alarming extent. The powder magazines have fortunately suffered very little.

ECCLESIASTICAL BUILDINGS.

The archiepiscopal palace has suffered very little. In the cathedral the two last arches of the nave, joining the front wall, have been broken, and the wall itself separated from the roof, leaving a space of about four fingers' breadth. The convent of St. Augustin, one of the strongest buildings in the city, and which was the only one that remained erect after the earthquakes of 1645, has suffered considerably in various parts. The convent of San Domingo has also suffered, but only slightly. The ancient convent of the Jesuits, La Compania, is almost in ruins, as well as its chapel. The roof has been completely taken off, leaving the bare walls standing, except the presbytery and choir, over which fragments of the roofing may still be seen. It is worthy of note that when the catastrophe occurred, the scholars were on the point of entering the choir; their lives were therefore saved by a hair's breadth.

Several other churches and chapels have been more or less severely injured.

OTHER PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The Town Hall is severely injured, and it has been necessary to take down the upper floor entirely.

The new and elegant Custom House has also received very considerable damage, as well as the bank of Isabel the Second, which forms part of the same edifice. The Audiencia and Chancilleria have also been sufferers in many parts.

Many other public buildings, factories, &c., are enumerated in the Boletin, and their various damages detailed.

There is also a long list of buildings in the villages which have been more or less injured by the visitation.

At Mindoro, the church and town of Luban, and the walls and battery of Sta. Catalina were levelled with the ground.

The following is also an extract from the same paper:—

The Philippine Isles, from their tropical situation and volcanic formation, are among the countries specially subject to the action of earthquakes. They contain many volcanoes, of which the chief are that of Dabao in Mindanao, and those of Albay and Taal in the Isle of Lazon. The two last may be said to be in continual activity, and their eruptions being generally in close connection with the hurricanes which frequent our latitudes, their force or their extinction furnish an excellent indication of the proximity or otherwise of earthquakes. This is not only ascertained by the theory of electricity, but also by actual experience, which has shown that, whenever they have been apparently extinct, earthquakes have followed; and vice versâ, whenever an extraordinary eruption has occurred, the island has been quite free from that terrible visitation. This was particularly shown in the occurrences of 1754, when the volcano of Taal broke out into its great eruption, and in those of February 2, 1814, on both of which occasions not the slightest shock was experienced. It was also confirmed by the fact that no earthquake was felt at the last eruption of the volcano of Albay, when the ashes were thrown as far as the city itself, such was the force of the eruption.

The principal earthquakes on record are those of 1627, 1645, 1675, 1799, 1824, 1828, and the last, 16th September, 1852. All of these have left terrible traces. That of 1645 entirely ruined the capital, and three thousand persons perished. The earthquakes of 1796, and those of this year have been the most destructive after that one. Since 1645, however, Divine Providence has mitigated its wrath, the force of the shocks having been greatly diminished, and in most cases no lives having been lost. One of our subscribers has suggested to us a very curious reflection, which is to ascertain the average interval between the earthquakes on record. The question is one interesting in a scientific point of view, since its solution would serve to fix the period required for the evolution of the explosive materials which cause these earthquakes. We find that—

From 1627 to 1645	there elapsed	18 years
" 1645 " 1675	"	30 "
" 1675 " 1796	"	121 "
" 1796 " 1824	"	21 "
" 1824 " 1852	"	28 "

From these figures we may gather (setting aside the interval between 1675 to 1796) that twenty-five years is the average period required for the evolution of electricity; and the larger interval may be explained perhaps by the tremendous eruption of Taal in 1754: supposing this explanation to be a true one, the following table would give us an average period of thirty-two years, or seven more than the former, which is a very insignificant difference, making allowances for minor earthquakes, which we have not taken into consideration, and which have occurred unperceived.

From the earthquake of 1627 to 1645	18 years.
From 1645 to 1675	30 "
From 1675 to the eruption of the volcano of Taal, in 1754	79 "
From thence to the earthquake of 1796	42 "
From 1796 to the eruption of Albah, in 1814	18 "
From 1814 to the earthquake of 1824	10 "
And from 1824 to 1852	28 "

The average of these periods is about thirty-two years. Those who are acquainted with the volcanic formation of our isles, in which scarcely a single province but can boast its crater, and who are aware of the great affinity between earthquakes and eruptions, will agree with us that these facts carry with them no alarming considerations; since they prove that the latent electricity is not of greater intensity than can easily find vent through the medium of the volcanoes. This we have just experienced, in the recent eruption of Taal, which, immediately after the shock of the 16th September, opened its ancient crater, and discharged, not lava, but a thick smoke, with water and sand, by means of which the subsequent shocks were greatly reduced in force. It is, however, curious that the very contrary took place in the case of Albay, a volcano of far greater activity, which, a day or two after the shock, closed its crater, although it had not been in a state of eruption recently, and although in the province of that name, the shock of the earthquake was not felt with anything like the violence it had in the city.

* * * * *

We shall not, however, pretend to elucidate further the history and nature of these phenomena, which from the days of Thales until our own have been the objects of such profound investigations. We shall merely content ourselves with expressing our gratitude to Providence, for the very few accidents, amounting only to three deaths, which have occurred.

The Almighty has watched over us during this distressing period, and has greatly tempered the sorrow which might otherwise have been inflicted upon us.

Water Police Office.—Yesterday, James Owen, a seaman belonging to the colonial schooner Despatch, was sentenced to twenty-one days' imprisonment, with hard labour, for insubordination. The sitting magistrates, the Mayor and the Superintendent of Police, further ordered that the expenses attending the prosecution should be deducted from whatever wages might be due to him.—Daniel M'Donald and John Young, two seamen belonging to the Cuthberts, who had deserted at Melbourne, but been apprehended in Sydney, pleaded guilty to the charge of desertion. Captain M'Lean said, that he did not desire to have them punished: that if they would return to the ship cheerfully he would not mulct them in any wages beyond the actual amount he had expended in getting them apprehended in Sydney; and further that he would give them the advanced scale of wages which those of his crew who had stood by the ship were now receiving. The prisoners said that these terms would not be accepted; whatever punishment the Court ordered they were prepared to put up with; and then go back to England in irons. The Bench having pointed out the extreme folly of which these misguided men were guilty, gave them some short time to consider whether they would accept Mr. M'Lean's offer. They refused; and thereupon the Bench sentenced them to be each imprisoned for twelve weeks, and kept to hard labour; the costs incurred in their apprehension to be deducted from their wages. They further intimated Captain M'Lean that if the Cuthberts sailed before the expiration of the term of imprisonment, application might be made to his Excellency to remit the remainder of the sentence, and to order the men so be put on board again. Thomas Wyatt and William Frazer, the two runaways from the Henry Winch, who were found by Acting Inspector Cowell stowed away in the hold of the Raven, brig, on Tuesday last, were ordered to be sent on board their own ship, Captain Sillitoe not desiring to press for punishment. Edward Sweeny, the second officer of the Eliza, was charged by Captain John Walsh with wilful and continued neglect of duty. Entries in the official log-book, duly attested, were read, stating that the prisoner had not only neglected his duty, but, when remonstrated with, had used the most revolting language to Captain Walsh. This was not denied by the prisoner, who, however, upon cross-examining the former, elicited from the admission that none of the entries in the official log, charging him with offence named in the information, had been read over to him. The Bench expressed much regret that this omission compelled them to dismiss the case. The Mercantile Marine Amendment Act, 1851, had a most peremptory provision in respect to the reading of entries in the log to any of the crew charged with offences, and this had not been complied with. The gross misconduct of the prisoner had been clearly proved; the language which he was stated to have used to his captain would have disgraced the lowest ruffian, much more an officer of the British Merchant Service, holding a certificate of service from the Board of Trade; but as the captain had failed to comply with a very essential provision of the Act under which he sailed, the Bench had no alternative but to order the prisoner to be discharged out of custody, notwithstanding the evidence of his guilt which had been adduced.—The next case on the list was a charge of cruelty and continued ill-treatment preferred by John Pressley, the steward of the same ship, the Eliza, against Captain Walsh. Mr. Green (of Nichols and Williams) appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Robberds (of Minithorpe and Gurner) for the defence. The information was exhibited under "The Better Prevention of Offences Act" of the last session of the Legislative Council. The case having been heard at great length, the Mayor said that himself and the Superintendent of Police were compelled to assist at the other office in an investigation of a serious matter, perhaps involving murder, and that the further hearing of this case must be postponed. He wished to know whether its resumption in the afternoon would meet the convenience of the various parties concerned? Mr. Inspector Powell begged leave to state that, without reference to the convenience of the professional gentlemen concerned in this case, the sitting of the Court any longer that day would be productive of considerable inconvenience to the maritime interests of the port. The duties of the Registry Office, which (as had been so often complained of) were conducted in the same small apartment in which the business of the Police Office was carried on, were now increasing daily, and yet during the chief business hours of each day (whilst the magistrates were sitting on the bench, and the Court was crowded with seamen) the shipowners, masters, and agents, who were anxiously pressing to have their applications for seamen's discharges, and all the other clerical business of the Registry Office attended to, were obliged to wait. Whilst these remarks were being made, and for some time before this, the proceedings before the Bench were interrupted by the yells and screams of some 40 Malay seamen belonging to the steamship Rajah Wallie, who, having been apprehended for desertion, were confined in the wretched hole underneath the Court room, and who were shouting that they were suffocating for want of air. The Superintendent of Police said that some change must really be effected in this department. The business of the registry office was increasing to an immense extent; yet no provision was made to carry it on in the totally inadequate apartment wherin the magisterial business was huddled up with that of the registry. After some desultory conversation, the Bench agreed to postpone the remaining business on the list until this morning; fixing an hour earlier than the usual one for the opening of the Court.

A Suspicious Story of Stolen Gold.—A paragraph in this paper on Saturday last, and a placard which has been since exhibited on the walls of the city, have informed our readers, that a passenger who arrived from Melbourne by the Waratah, on the 31st ult., had complained to the police that 1400 ounces of gold which he had deposited in the bedroom that he had taken at the Adelphi Hotel, York-street, immediately after his landing here, had been abstracted from the carpet-bag (in which he alleges it was placed) during his temporary absence. The placard which we have alluded to notified that any person giving information which might restore the stolen gold would be rewarded with £1000 on applying to "George Hanslip, Esq.," Adelphi Hotel. There were such obviously suspicious circumstances in the story, that a strict inquiry was made by the police authorities into the facts, and also into the character of the alleged loser, and the following is the result of their investigation:—"George Hanslip, Esquire," was, some time ago, clerk to Mr. Stubbs, late of Sydney, now of Melbourne, auctioneer. He was sent one day to deposit a sum of about £335 in the bank where Mr. Stubbs kept his account, but almost immediately came running back, saying that the roll of notes given to him was £100 less in amount than stated by Mr. Stubbs. The latter gave him into the custody of the Police, but at the magisterial inquiry which ensued, he failed to bring home the guilt to the prisoner, who was accordingly discharged. He, therefore brought an action for false imprisonment against Mr. Stubbs in the Supreme Court at Melbourne, and recovered damages. Nothing more is known of him, than that he arrived here last Friday by the Waratah. He had three small travelling bags with him, which he put into a cab at the A. S. N. Company's Wharf, and then was driven to the Adelphi Hotel. He there asked for a bed-room, and having called for a glass of ginger beer, he put one of his bags under his arm, and taking the others, one in each hand, carried the three up-stairs to the bed-room pointed out to him. He soon afterwards went out, and upon his return made an outcry that one of the bags had been cut open, and 1400 ounces of gold stolen therefrom. The questions naturally arising when his complaint was made to the police were two:—1. How did he manage, by himself, without the least aid, to carry about a hundred weight and a quarter of gold up stairs, encumbered as he was with the three bags? 2. How was it that he, a perfect stranger in Sydney, should (supposing that he really had brought up so heavy and valuable a parcel of gold) have left it in his carpet bag exposed in a strange public-house? These questions appeared to take "George Hanslip, Esq.," by surprise; so without replying to them, excepting by "hems and hars," and other indefinite injections, he betook himself to the Waratah once more, and engaged a passage back again to Melbourne, leaving any keen inquirer who may be able to give the desired information touching the missing 1400 ounces of gold, to look very anxiously for the advertised reward of £1000. As the Waratah left her moorings yesterday, a very active officer belonging to the detective police force of Sydney was observed on board, keeping a very active eye upon Mr. Hanslip, whose acquaintance he appeared disposed to cultivate assiduously during the return voyage to Melbourne.

The Western Gold Escort did not arrive yesterday at the Colonial Treasury. No advices as to the cause of the detention were received.

Ecclesiastical.—The Rev. Dr. Steele, of St. Peter's, Cook's River, has been appointed a Surrogate for granting episcopal marriage licenses, under the provisions of the Act of Council 7 Wm. IV., No. 6.

Royal Victoria Theatre.—Last evening, his Excellency the Governor-General and the Honorable Mrs. Keith Stewart honoured this theatre with their presence. A crowded and fashionable audience, including the leading military, naval, and civil officers of Sydney, and the principal residents and their families, gave his Excellency a very cordial reception. The performances included the comedy of "The Honeymoon;" a musical melange, in which Mesdames Sara Flower and Carandini assisted; and the farce of "Cool as a Cucumber." Previous to the latter piece, a new composition, entitled "The Gold Escort Polka," was performed by the band, and met with great applause. It is composed by Mr. George Strong, a young musician of much promise. A pas de deux, by Signor Carandini and Miss Collins, was a very agreeable feature of the evening's programme.

The Assault on Mr. Gough.—A man named Edward Murphy was yesterday brought before the Mayor, charged as a confederate with Kelly (who was committed for trial a week or ten days since) in the murderous assault on Mr. Gough last Saturday fortnight. It having been given in evidence that the prisoner had thrown a tumbler at Gough, told Kelly to "settle the ——," and had armed himself with a quart pot, of which he was dispossessed by a young man named Hancock, before he had had an opportunity of using it, Murphy was committed for trial. Mr. Nichols prosecuted, and Mr. Dick defended the prisoner.

Horse stealing.—George Thompson was yesterday brought before the Mayor, charged with stealing a horse, saddle, and bridle, the property of Mr. Isaac Simmons, junior. On Wednesday Mr. Simmons lent his horse to Mr. Joseph Cohen, who in the afternoon had business with Mr. Runnle, of Queen's-place, and left the horse at the door of that gentleman's office; coming out in a few minutes, the horse was gone, and having obtained information of the person who rode him away, and of the direction, proceeded along George-street as far as the Post Office, where he found the horse and the prisoner, in the custody of Mr. Simmons, who had recognised his horse and stopped the rider. He was detained until Sergeant Kerwin, of the police force, came up, into whose custody he was given. Committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.—On the 15th November, a bay mare, the property of Patrick Kenny, was stolen from Stoney Creek, district of Bathurst; John Healey and John Eagers, are charged with the offence.—A bright bay draught horse, valued at £60, the property of Mr. John R. Mackenzie, was stolen from Pitt Town on the 30th ultimo.—A bay mare, and a bay horse, the property of John Pevitt, were, on the 30th ultimo, stolen from his premises, at Bathurst.

Vagrant Act.—In a case which was called on before the Police Magistrate yesterday, a female appeared on summons to answer an information filed, wherein she was charged with having used "indecent and obscene language" in a public place. The information having been read, Mr. Nichols, for the defendant, submitted that it must be at once dismissed, inasmuch as, contrary to the statute, defendant was therein charged with two offences, indecent as well as obscene language. Mr. Brenan, for complainant, contended that inasmuch as obscene language could not but be indecent, two charges were not laid in the information; at the most, it was but tautology, which might be amended by striking out as surplusage the words "and obscene." Mr. Dowling was of opinion that the information contained two charges, and under such circumstances the Act was imperative: he had no power to allow the emendation asked for, and therefore the information must be dismissed. It was dismissed accordingly.

Stealing Money.—A man named Watson is charged with having, at Oakey Creek, Turon River, on the 28th ultimo, stolen from Mr. John Sadling, one £20 Commercial Bank note, one £10, one £5, eleven sovereigns, ten shillings in silver, and several nuggets of gold. A warrant has been issued for Watson's apprehension.

Horses Supposed to have been Stolen.—Horses of the following description, lately in the possession of a man charged with horse stealing, and which are supposed to be stolen, are now in custody of the police:—One brown or dun coloured mare, 14 hands high, brand like EL off shoulder defaced with one like CE; one brown filly, and one chesnut colt, brand like EL off shoulder, defaced like JB; one black mare, original brand like IJ or JI, defaced like W.

Hackney Carriage By Laws.—John Condron was yesterday found guilty of having demanded and taken from Captain Fitz Roy the sum of 2s. 6d. for driving him from the Bank of Australasia to Government House, the legal fare being one shilling only, and was sentenced to pay a penalty of 20s. with 5s. for costs. The same cabman was next convicted of having plied his carriage for hire, not having at the time a valid license to do so. His license expired on the 31st ultimo, and he had not taken steps for its renewal, notwithstanding which on Monday, the 3rd instant, he was out as usual. He was sentenced to pay a penalty of 10s., with 5s. costs. Thomas Crofty was also convicted of plying without a license, and was sentenced to pay 10s. with 5s. for costs.

Result of Sales.—Eighty Union Bank shares were sold by R. Muriel, yesterday, in various lots, at £40 per share, being at the rate of 60 per cent premium.

Purkis and Lambert request public attention to their sales this day, at the Mart, commencing at half-past 10 o'clock, with port and sherry in one dozen cases, cutlery, scissors, brass candlesticks, plated ditto: at 11 o'clock, a superb invoice of gold, jewellery, watches, &c.

Mr. Mort respectfully calls attention to his sales this day, viz., at his Rooms, house and land in Prince-street, cottages at Paddington, and a capital farm at Bankstown, all deserving especial notice from capitalists. The sale of black oil will take place at the wharf, Bathurst-street, at three o'clock.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

THE BRITISH EXODUS.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

Gentlemen,—As you have recently called public attention to an English Company, bearing the above title, who, in their prospectus, have advertised our firm as their Sydney agents, will you allow us, through your columns, to state that our names have been thus used without our knowledge or consent.

We were not even aware of the existence of such a Company until our attention was directed a few days ago to their prospectus, published in the Times of the 8th September last, and no one could be more astonished than we were to see our names before the public in connexion with a scheme of so doubtful a character.

We are, your obedient servants,

One machine, with necessary jigger, tubs, and iron work, with seives, are to be sold, and which will wash twenty tons of alluvium or washed tailings per day. 230 Cases
88 Boxes
66 Bales
21 Trunks
25 Casks

All of which goods they can, and will, dispose of at 15 per cent. under the lowest Sydney prices.

This being only a preliminary notice, the vessels having only just reached port, David Cohen and Co. have not themselves been enabled to examine the invoices in detail. They must therefore content themselves with stating that their importations consist of Wines in wood and bottle, Champagne, Brandy (Martell's dark), Rum (real Jamaica, 30 o.p.), Whiskey (Islay), Bottled Ale and Porter, Cider, Draught Ale and Porter, Cordials, Old Tom, Schiedam Gin, and every other article in the spirit trade.

HOLLOWAY'S MEDICINES.

Saddlery, Ironmongery, Holloware, Stationery, Oilman's Stores, Grocery, Sheep and Cattle Medicines, Toys, Clocks, Jewellery, Cutlery, and Drapery in endless variety, to the value of fifteen thousand pounds (£15,000); and this in addition to their present stock, which comprises almost every article in general demand.

To the majority of business-men who reside westward of Maitland this announcement will be doubtless hailed with pleasure, as the high price of carriage, combined with the dearness of goods in Sydney, has almost amounted to a prohibition to purchase in the Metropolis.

At present cartage from Maitland can be procured to Mudgee at £8 per ton, and proportionately to the diggings,—thus, at once effecting a saving of at least 5 per cent. on the cost of heavy goods; whilst, without rent, gas-light, city rates, and other expenses so exorbitant, are enabled to undersell, with a fair remunerative profit, the best conducted wholesale establishment in Sydney. They therefore invite an inspection of their splendid stock, unrivalled in quality and vastness; and assure their customers that the above being only a portion of the goods expected by them, they are desirous to afford facilities, which will render a business connection as lucrative to their customers as to themselves.

DAVID COHEN AND CO.,

As an accompaniment to the piano it has the advantage over a wind instrument, as the note can be lengthened like the voice, and very little practice will enable any player on the piano to give full effect to the instrument.

The attention of parties about furnishing is particularly invited to this highly important sale, and SHIPPERS to Port Phillip will have an opportunity of purchasing this furniture in a condition fit for immediate shipment, the cases being all preserved, and in condition fit for immediate use.

SKINNER'S HOTEL, and PREMISES.
SHOP and RESIDENCE,
Occupied by Mrs. Hobson, milliner.
SHOP and PREMISES,
Occupied by Mr. Nixon, tailor.
Situate at the corner of George-street and Hunter-street; the Inn being let under lease to Mr. Skinner, at a rental of £300 a-year. The Shops are free of any lease, and would now let readily at £150 per annum each.
The premises are most substantially built in an ornamented style, and are in excellent order.
☞ This is a first class property—"the Regent-street Corner" of Sydney, and the capitalist will have difficulty in finding so desirable an investment for his money in the whole colony of New South Wales, as the continuation of Hunter-street through Barrack-square brings all the steamer wharfs into immediate connection with this portion of George-street, and renders it the very keystone of the city.
Title unexceptionable.
Terms at sale. 815

VALUABLE BUILDING ALLOTMENTS,

Also, two Blocks of Land, at the rear of the above, on Grose Farm Creek. The whole forming a part of the well-known Camperdown Estate.

MR. MORT has instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, January 19, at 11 o'clock,
Forty-six Building Plots, having frontages respectively to the Parramatta Road, Purkis-street, Samuel-street, and Lambert-street, and also to Lyons-street. The frontage of each allotment is about 24 feet, with depths varying from 80 to 100 feet, and more particularly shown upon plans, which may be seen at the Rooms.
AFTER WHICH,
TWO BLOCKS LAND, each containing upwards of two acres, having extensive frontage to Grose Farm Creek, and also to Samuel-street, with immediate access to the Parramatta Road, by Lyons-street, and only separated from the Glebe Property by the Creek.
☞ These are two very valuable blocks of land, and are deserving of notice, on account of their extent and adaptation to any of the trades which are prohibited in Sydney by the City Regulations.
The ALLOTMENTS are so conveniently situated as regards Sydney, and in the centre of what is fast becoming an important Township, whoever may buy at the present sale will do well by his purchase, for their value must increase amazingly.

TWO 640-ACRE SECTIONS IN THE COUNTY OF DURHAM.

MR. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, January 19, at 11 o'clock, having a large frontage to the Parramatta River, looking towards Sydney, being the eastern half of the headland forming the eastern side of Five Dock Bay.

61 ACRES
☞ There is communication through the celebrated Five Dock Estate from the Parramatta-road to this beautiful selection, and the distance from the city by water is only trifling—indeed when the three new boats which have been ordered out for this river begin to ply, the distance will cease to be a matter of consideration. This is well worthy of attention, either as a speculation, or as a site for a good residence.
After the above,
TWO 640-ACRE SECTIONS
In the county of Durham, of which particulars will be given in a future advertisement.
Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit, and the residue by bill at 3 months. 824

EIGHT CAPITAL HOUSES,
In the most central and healthy portion of the City, well-known as Horbury-terrace.
☞ This is an unreserved sale; the proprietor's instructions being positively to sell, and in lots to suit purchasers.

MR. MORT has received instructions from the proprietor, to sell without reserve, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on TUESDAY, 1st day of March, at 11 o'clock,
That highly productive and extensive pile of buildings, so well-known as Horbury-terrace, situate at the head of Macquarie-street, nearly opposite the Council Chambers, and the opening to the Domain by Sir Richard Bourke's Statue.
This property will be put up in lots, one house in each lot, commencing with the house at the corner of Hunter-street, the purchaser of the first lot having the option of taking one or more of the adjoining houses (provided they be consecutive lots), thus giving the purchaser of one house the opportunity of becoming the proprietor of the whole of this most desirable freehold.
In order to avoid the possibility of mistake, the Houses will be numbered in lots, with white paint, and a plan of the property, prepared by James Hume, Esq., lies at the Rooms of the Auctioneer for reference. Each house will have the exact quantity of land ceded to it upon which it stands (should the whole not go in one lot), agreeably with the regulations of the Building Act, together with the yards, as now fenced in and occupied by each tenant, and also the right of way to the rear, as at present enjoyed.
All the above houses are four stories high (including the cellar kitchen, which open out upon a level with the yards), and seven of them have access by a lane to Hunter-street, the eighth having a private entrance to the rear from Macquarie-street.
They are all in excellent order, and with one exception, have the city water laid on.
They have always been occupied by highly respectable tenants: and their rental has yielded as high a return as £156 per annum for each house, since which time considerable improvements and additions have been made. Without doubt these rates will be again attainable (if not considerably increased) upon the expiration of the present tenancies now, having only a very short time to run.
The position occupied by Horbury Terrace is unrivalled. It is within two or three minutes' walk of the wharves, the banks, and the busiest parts of George and Pitt streets, and almost directly opposite the entrance to the Domain—thus combining all the advantages of the country, with a residence in the heart of the city. It is in the immediate neighbourhood of the Legislative Council, the Government Offices, the Supreme Court, and the Library.
The baths are only just across the Domain, whilst Hyde Park and our splendid Botanical Gardens, from their easy distance, may almost be said to be attached to the property. The magnificent scenery and splendid views yield perhaps to none in the world, either in extent or beauty; the front windows of the Terrace commanding our glorious harbour with its countless bays, the Heads, the Light House, Government House, the Gardens, North Shore and the Domain. The western windows take in, in one panoramic view, all the busy parts of our metropolis from George-street to Darling Harbour, and extending even still beyond—embrace Pyrmont, Balmain, &c., &c., &c. It is therefore no exaggeration to say, that the position occupied by Horbury Terrace is unrivalled.
N.B.—An unquestionable title is guaranteed to the purchaser, and the quit rent is redeemed.
For terms, and all additional particulars, apply to Mr. MORT (at his Rooms, Pitt-street), who is instructed to state that this superb freehold will positively be sold TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, on the day above-named, viz:—Tuesday, 1st March. 827
